Price and payment

There is no charge for the Experian Account

Your Experian Identity Plus subscription is £6.99/month.

You can cancel at any time. See below for more information on how to cancel and your statutory cancellation rights.

Product features (Free Experian Account)

- ✓ Experian Credit Score updated every 30 days if you log in
- ✓ Find credit cards, mortgages, loans, car insurance and energy offers
- ✓ See your eligibility rating before you apply when you search for credit cards and personal loans, and get regular updates, based on your credit information
- ✓ Get updates when you might save money or benefit from new products, based on your credit information

Experian is a credit broker and not a lender †

We will tell you about your current credit holdings, eligibility ratings and opportunities to save money or benefit from new products by looking at your current and historical credit information. This includes the information that can be found in your credit report, for example, if your promotional period looks like it could be coming to an end. You can find more details in the 'Personalised Product Updates' section of our Privacy Policy.

We may notify you of these updates when you log in to Experian and / or by e-mail, SMS, mobile app notification, or postal communication when we've spotted something new. You can control your messaging preferences in your account settings. Notifications via our mobile app can be managed in the app settings or your device settings.

Product features (Identity Plus)

✓ Daily Experian Fraud Report

If you log in, you can get your daily Experian Fraud Report. This details key information from your Experian Credit Report that may help you identify fraudulent activity on your credit report.

✓ Experian fraud alerts

Get alerts by email or text message about certain changes to your Experian Fraud Report.

Alerts are sent weekly and relate to when accounts are opened or closed, or when your credit report is searched.

✓ Web monitoring

We help you better protect your identity by scanning certain internet sites and locations for selected personal and financial details, and alerting you by email or text message if anything looks wrong or fraudulent.

Web monitoring is designed to work alongside taking a cautious approach to your sharing of data and use of the internet and other digital services.

✓ Enhanced fraud support

If you become a victim of fraud, our dedicated experts will help walk you through the next steps.

You will be assigned a dedicated case worker who will guide you through the steps to recovering from fraud, depending on your situation. Your caseworker will get in touch with companies on your behalf as well as taking protective measures through communications with other credit referencing agencies and fraud prevention services such as Cifas.

The caseworker will help you set up further protective controls on your credit file if necessary, and will continue to check your file at regular intervals once your case has been closed.

Please note that from time to time, additional features may be shown to select customers for initial testing purposes. This product factsheet will be updated when such features are made available more generally.

Where you are invited to trial new or enhanced features, if we will use your personal information in a new or different way we will explain to you what that means.

How to cancel and your statutory cancellation rights

In most cases you can cancel online in your Experian account pages. Alternatively, you can cancel by calling us free on 0800 561 0083*. When you cancel, your service will be stopped at your next billing date.

You can also close your free Experian account whenever you like either online, by calling or by writing to us.

You can find out more details about how to cancel on www.experian.co.uk/help.

Cancelling during your Cooling-off period

If you are a New Customer you are entitled to a cancellation period of 14 days following the date your first subscription for a Service is activated ("Cooling-off" period). During the Cooling-off period you can change your mind and cancel the service. However, if either;

- you change from your current paid for subscription to a new paid for subscription, or
- you are a returning customer who has had a paid for subscription in the last 30 days, then you will not have a Cooling-off period and will not be entitled to a cancellation refund unless your new service has features that have not previously been available or provided to you as part of a previous subscription.

If you are returning to a subscription after more than 30 days, you will be classed as a new customer as described above for the purposes of Cooling-off period only and will be entitled to a cancellation refund. You will not be entitled to a free trial or other benefits reserved for new customers.

If you wish to cancel you can use the model cancellation form below to tell us, or you can call us free on 0800 561 0083*.

If you cancel your subscription to Experian Identity Plus within the Cooling-off period, you'll receive a refund of £5 (a partial refund of the £6.99 monthly subscription).

We will deduct £1.99 for the value you have received in obtaining the right to access your Experian Fraud Report at least once before you cancelled.

If you have received a free trial of Experian Identity Plus or if a third party pays for it on your behalf, there won't be anything to refund.

*Lines are open Monday - Friday 8am - 7pm, Saturday 8am - 4pm. Calls may be recorded for training and monitoring purposes.
