Your statutory report contains the details of your credit history and credit applications. Whenever you apply for credit the lender will check your borrowing history and how you typically repay money you've borrowed. This happens when you apply for credit such as a loan, credit card, mortgage, car insurance or even a mobile phone contract.

Your Experian Credit Score tells you how lenders may view you, which is useful when you apply for credit. It runs from 0-999 and is based on the information in your Experian Credit Report. The higher your score, the greater the chance you have of getting the best credit deals.

With a free Experian account, you can view your Experian Credit Score for free. If you would like to sign up, please visit www.experian.co.uk
